

SCHROEDER QUILTS FARM BUREAU JOB

Resignation of Secretary Is Big Loss to State Organization.

The resignation of Chris Schroeder, Wisconsin Farm Bureau secretary, is a decided loss to the organized farmers for he has been active and progressive with state bureau work. Among farmers and on agricultural problems Chris Schroeder is a big man, and that is the reason for his leaving bureau work for his new position of livestock agent for an insurance company which pays considerably more.

Schroeder is a man of clear vision, good judgment and of exceptional practical experience. He happily combined the practical with the theoretical. He is a man of high character and high ability. He is a man of high character and high ability. He is a man of high character and high ability.

James R. Howard has been re-elected president of the American Farm Bureau Association. Oscar E. Brundage, Ohio, vice president, President Howard during the last year obtained big results for the farmers in a national anti-Monopoly campaign.

The senior class of the high school will hold a food sale Saturday at 10 a. m. at the home of Mrs. J. W. Miller, 100 E. 1st St. The sale will be held in the church hall.

Walworth County News. The annual Walworth county Farm Bureau meeting will be held in the county house in Elkhorn Dec. 10.

Successful township Bureau meetings have been held the last month and are being continued. When started the Walworth Bureau had a membership of more than 1,500 farmers.

For better markets. Necessaries have been pointed out by several farmers in Rock, Walworth and Jefferson counties of better marketing. No producer will question the value of marketing when it comes to determination of profit or loss.

There is something in the consumer's desire for the best, the choice and fancy articles. The consumer wants the best flour, the best eggs, the best bacon and the popular demand is for "top stuff." Lower grades of commodities are hastily surveyed or ignored and their cheap or moderate price does not receive the attention deserved.

Butter from high grade Jersey cattle near Beloit is selling for 50 cents a pound—considerably over the market price. The farmer built up a reputation for his product as one of merit made it known among consumers, who were willing to pay a fancy price for fancy butter.

Although the popular demand is for the best, especially in the cities, there is too little attempt among the farmers to meet this market demand. Only a minor fraction of the agricultural products is of the fancy or choice qualities and the bulk of the farm commodities is only of fair or moderate quality. Otherwise there would not be the great demand for better farm merchandise.

Raise what the market wants and demands in farm towns and livestock farmers are advised. There are examples of more profit in quality products whether it is milk, honey, certified potatoes or fresh eggs. There are two ways to market one by cheap price and another, quality goods and the latter pays.

Walworth Dairy Herds. Walworth county is making rapid progress with county development of blooded livestock, especially with Holsteins and Guernseys. There are crack herds of both of these breeds in both neighboring counties, Walworth and Jefferson.

One of the Holstein herds is being developed on the farm near Elkhorn owned by J. R. Wheeler, a banker of Burlington, and W. L. Smith, manager of the farm. H. E. Dyer, of the United States, is the owner.

They have 45 head of the black and whites, all blooded animals. There were three animals from this farm shown at the last state fair and on each, entry prizes were won.

The senior herd sire is King Pontiac Payne Butterbox, of eastern breeding by Briar Pontiac Daisy. The dam is a record holder.

The sire of the Elkhorn bull is Sir King Pontiac Hangerford Payne, from the Kentucky Coliseum farm. The herd sire is a big animal, weighing more than a ton and has brought good results to the owners.

Elis Segis Dutchland is one of the best producers on the farm, having a record of 17,000 pounds of milk, being milked twice a day on official state test. Susie Skyrack Ormsby Segis produced 16,000 pounds of milk in one test. One of the best looking cows on the farm is a Wisconsin Dutchland Segis, a 19 months old bull, that has quality stamped all over him. He is being kept as the future herd sire of the farm.

Tests are being conducted on the Smith farm nearly the year around under state supervision and the average butter fat from the herd during the last year has been 3.6 according to Herdman Malines, who until coming to the Elkhorn farm, worked at the Babst stock farms, Waukesha county.

ELKHORN HAS LATE WIRELESS STATION

Messages and Music from All Parts Heard in Jewelry Store.

[By Staff Correspondent.] Elkhorn.—When D. D. Graft and H. J. Ludden desire a little celestial music all they do is to flash a few lights and turn a few switches on their powerful radio outfit installed in the Graft jewelry store in this city.

They adjust the wireless telephone receiving outfit and listen in on the wide wide world. From the heavens comes music from the classic recital of a piano artist to phonograph jazz. The only thing they have never been able to connect with thus far is the heavenly harmony of the wife.

This week they heard a piano concert being held in Madison while seated by the wireless in Elkhorn and later heard the playing of the "Stars and Stripes Forever" by a band. The last selection they could not place, but clear and true the sound waves brought the music from afar to the 450 foot antenna strung near the Elkhorn water tower to near the jewelry store.

Ludden had experience with the radio in the service during the war. The first radio set was installed a year ago for receiving correct time from Arlington for the jewelry store. So successful was the experiment the two Elkhorn young men improved their outfit with higher tension instruments and their outfit is now powerful enough to catch and hold most messages sent out in the United States. Then they purchased the wireless telephone receiving outfit.

Now they are considering taking the market report sent out by the Wisconsin department of markets to the 450 foot antenna strung near the Elkhorn water tower.

Part of the radio outfit now in use is to be installed in the Elkhorn high school where a wireless class is to be started by Prof. C. A. Jahr.

"We never thought radio would be of so much use and such good sport a year ago when we first started," declares Mr. Graft.

FOCH GIFTS RANGE FROM BEAUTY CREAM TO MONTANA BOBCAT

New York.—Gifts ranging from a Montana wild cat to a jar of beauty cream will have been given to Marshall Foch when he sails from this city Dec. 15, on the liner Paris, according to members of the American Legion party, who have the generalissimo on a tour of the United States.

An incomplete inventory of the marshal's presents made before he started for the west, where a motley collection of new souvenirs awaits him includes Theodora, the wild bobcat; a scorpion embedded in glass; a flower bowl from the Iron and Steel Institute; White River pearl scarfpin from Arkansas; game rooster from Sudania, Mo.; an emblem of France; medals by the score, received from practically every city he has visited; Ogallala Indian pipe; miniature Boy Scout statue; pot of beauty cream from Detroit; three gold awards; in distinction Service medal presented by the Legion; box of corned pipes from Missouri; scores of books of various descriptions and numerous gifts of flowers which he has turned over to hospitals along his route.

"I treasure each of my gifts," the marshal is quoted as saying "not for the value of the gift, but for the spirit that prompted the giving."

Real Rest Depends Largely Upon the Depth of Your Sleep

A warning to "light" or "poor" sleepers

The deeper and sounder you sleep the better you feel. Five hours sound refreshing sleep does you more actual good than ten hours restless, disturbed sleep.

This is because the final conversion of food into vital tissue and nerve cells goes on more rapidly when the physical and mental forces are at rest.

You can't get sound, refreshing sleep if your nerves are agitated with tea or coffee. Both these drinks contain caffeine, which is sometimes very irritating to the brain and nervous system.

If you want to know the joy, vigor and stamina that comes to the person who gets sound, healthful sleep, why not stop taking tea or coffee for a while, and drink delicious, invigorating Postum instead.

Thousands of people everywhere have found that this was the only thing they needed in order to bring about these very happy results.

Order Postum from your grocer today. Drink this delightful cereal beverage of coffee-like flavor, for a week. Perhaps, like thousands of others, you'll never be willing to go back to tea or coffee.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tin) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

YANKEES ATTACKED IN VIENNA RIOTS

Police Stand Idly by as Hotel Guests Are Robbed, Beaten.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Vienna.—The interior city of Vienna looked as though it had been struck by a tornado as the result of Thursday's widespread rioting, the worst since the downfall of the monarchy. All the leading hotels and restaurants and many of the shops dealing in luxuries were wrecked and the streets are cluttered with debris.

No deaths were reported, but the police said many had been injured by the mobs in their orgy of plunder and destruction. Police stood idly by while the mobs worked their will, some even expressing sympathy with the rioters.

The trouble started in a demonstration before the parliament building by strikers from Floridsdorf, a suburb. They went to Chancellor Schober demands for abolition of the stock exchange, consolidation of foreign securities and more effective food control. His answer they regarded as unsatisfactory and the rioting began shortly afterward, spreading to all parts of the inner city.

The empty stock exchange was stormed, the hotels partly wrecked and their guests robbed and insulted and beaten, and well dressed pedestrians in the shopping districts were stripped of furs, jewels and money. Many Americans were among those attacked although in one instance the display of the American flag saved a Col. Miller and his wife from molestation.

Elkhorn Vets to See New Orleans

Elkhorn.—New Orleans in 1925. So say the members of Harry E. Kelly post, 45, in Elkhorn, considered one of the most wide awake legion organizations of the state. Legion members have formed savings clubs—not to buy hockies, handkerchiefs and slippers for Christmas, but for railroad tickets for the next year's legion convention. Sergeant Dennis O'Keefe, the Elkhorn war dog, will be sent to the New Orleans meet with full honors as a delegate. The Elkhorn service men hope to charter a special car for the southern meet and are making plans early.

During the last week the Delavan post was entertained by the Elkhorn post.

Meat cutters to strike on Monday

Chicago.—Declaring the shop representation system, inaugurated by the "big five" packers, did not represent the sentiment of the employees, and that they did not approve the wage reduction of 10 per cent which went into effect last Monday, Cornelius Hayes, president, and Dennis Lane, secretary of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America Friday sent out instructions for a strike next Monday.

Packing plants in about 15 cities and 45,000 men will be affected, Mr. Hayes.

The packers declared a strike would not seriously hamper work of distributing meat products, as the unions were not represented heavily enough to affect the plants.

An arbitration agreement expired Sept. 15 and a controversy between packers and employees over wages and working conditions began. The Armour, Wilson, Swift and Cudahy companies began a system of plant conferences, calling in representatives of their employees. In October, the Amalgamated Meat Cutters took a strike vote, declaring the union was not recognized, and a walkout was authorized by a large majority.

The plant assemblies, after several conferences, decided on a 10 per cent wage reduction, the amount being fixed by the men, and it became effective last Monday.

Big Audiences at High School and Methodist Church Hear Glen Ellison and Alta Hill in EDISON Tone-Test

In tests of direct comparison, made yesterday at the High School and Methodist Church, before large audiences, the New Edison scored a complete and convincing triumph.

Glen Ellison, the famous baritone, sang in direct comparison with the RE-CREATION of his voice by the New Edison. To every ear, there was no difference between his living voice and his RE-CREATED voice.

This is the most drastic phonograph test known. No other phonograph has ever sustained it. No other phonograph has even attempted it.

The New Edison's marvelous performance of yesterday vindicates everything that has been said or claimed for its perfect realism.

Mr. Ellison stood on the stage next to a shapely Chippendale cabinet. He began to sing. His golden notes soared over the auditorium, bringing all under its magic spell.

Halfway through his song, he suddenly stopped singing. The New Edison, at his side, took up his song,—and continued it alone.

Singer and phonograph thus altered, throughout the song.

The only way the audience could be sure which was singing, was by watching Mr. Ellison's lips,—so exactly like the living voice was the RE-CREATED voice.

Alta Hill made the same test of comparison with her piano selections. Again the same result—there was no difference between the RE-CREATED performance and the living performance.

Proof was piled upon proof. Evidence was massed on evidence! The end of the concert found the audience absolutely and completely convinced visitors at the Brickson home, a visit being an "infrequent occurrence."

BRICKSON MURDER HEARD IN COURT

Twice the defendant's attorney objected to the manner in which the district attorney conducted the direct examination.

"These are leading questions—he is literally charging the testimony from the witness," protested Mr. McWilliams.

"Oh, it's all right—there is no jury—this is only before the court," said the district attorney. And he was allowed to continue without being corrected.

Mr. Brickson's testimony.

The tragic story of the discovery of the body of his own wife near the house on the morning of Nov. 12 was once more related by Mr. Brickson in response to questioning in a manner similar to that at the coroner's inquest two weeks ago.

"We had lived on the property near the Janesville Country club for about five years and had been building an addition to the house for some time past," he said. "We lived in the basement all the time."

"What was kept on the main floor and the top story of the house?" Brickson was asked.

"We had the furniture stored there until the time we would move upstairs."

"Are there any gas or electricity connections upstairs?"

"Any curtains at the windows?"

"There may have been—I don't know."

"Then from the street, it would appear as if they were not yet occupied, there being no indications of life upstairs, you and your wife living in the basement?"

"Yes," said Brickson.

An Unusual Woman.

Mr. and Mrs. Brickson lived alone in the house. It was brought out, and he worked as night watchman at the Rock County Sugar company but was not employed there any more.

Mrs. Brickson was an unusually strong-minded and well developed woman, her husband testified.

"She would stand around the house considerably and did what you might call a man's work, didn't she?" Mr. Dunwiddie asked.

"Well, she would do as much work as a good many men would do," the witness said. "She was 62 on April 11 this year."

The witness said he could remember of Mrs. Beckm having visited at his home but could not recall the names of any other visitors. It was an infrequent occurrence to have any one at the house, he said. He testified again that his wife handled all his checks and money, paid all the bills, etc. and that she would go over to her mother's house "whenever she took a notion."

Didn't Suspect Vermeersok.

"After getting so much of this sort of testimony, District Attorney Dunwiddie changed his line of questioning to link up the defendant, Vermeersok, with the case."

"How long have you known the defendant here?" he asked Mr. Brickson.

"It's all of two years," was the reply after considerable thought. "I met him at the sugar plant where he had worked."

Further questioning brought out that Brickson hired the defendant about July, 1921, to help him in building his house and that he worked for him about two or six weeks, living in the basement with them and getting his own meals.

"How did you happen to hire him?"

"Well, I wanted help and we wanted someone who would board himself. Henry had been out there once before and my wife had taken a liking to him so I hired him. He worked for us long enough to earn $12."

"Who paid him off?"

"My wife would pay him when he wanted the money. I paid him once after she had handed me the money. I don't know where she kept the money—she may have kept it upstairs. I don't know."

Vermeersok didn't go down town much while he was working for us. He was a quiet, home-body fellow, familiar with the house, although Mr. Brickson could not testify whether he had ever seen him upstairs.

Saw Check Endorsed.

One new development in Mr. Brickson's testimony was his positive statement that he saw his wife endorse his $40 pay check which he gave her about Nov. 5. She wrote his name, "E. Brickson," on the back of it, he declared.

"When shown the $40 check, the husband of the dead woman said the endorsement on the back was clearly not his wife's writing. He, however, said that he had seen his wife endorse Maxfield's glasses to look at the endorsement, and said, emphatically:

"No, that's not her writing. I know that."

Asked about the crumpled appearance at the place of endorsement, the witness said he knew nothing of it. He told of the position in which he found the body of his wife and of his activities following the discovery.

Williams. Mr. Brickson said he had never suspected Vermeersok would attack him or his wife.

"I've always regarded him as a friend—never had any trouble with him that I know of—and never thought he'd do anything to us."

He admitted that his wife often walked down town and back home alone at various times of the day and night.

Asked as to whether strangers were frequently seen walking along the road, Mr. Brickson said he had seen them in the daytime but never at night, he having been working nights.

"Did anyone ever come to your house asking for something to eat?" Mr. McWilliams asked.

"I don't know."

Efforts of the defendant's lawyer to establish facts in regard to the financial affairs of the Payne family, neighbors of Mr. Brickson, proved futile, the witness denying all knowledge of them.

Had .42 Revolver.

"You shot a horse at your place sometime ago—what kind of a revolver did you use?" Mr. McWilliams asked.

"It was a .42."

"Sure it wasn't a .32?"

"Yes, an .42."

Mrs. Brickson was killed with bullets from a .33 revolver.

Mrs. Brickson very seldom went out visiting, although she did go into the city to sell eggs often and be-

Mrs. Jennie Payne, owner of the property west of the Brickson home, was called by District Attorney Dunwiddie after Dr. Welch. In her direct testimony she told of hearing the three shots fired in quick succession, then a pause and hearing the fourth shot.

"The shots were fired between 9 and 10 o'clock," swore Mrs. Payne. "I remember the clock striking when I went to bed after hearing the shots and it was 10 o'clock."

In the cross-examination the witness admitted she did not hear the three first shots, but her attention had been called to them by her two children.

"As my son spoke of the shots, just as he finished, I heard the fourth shot," explained the witness. "I did not hear the first three myself."

MOVABLE DAM IS SOO PROTECTION

Steel Structure Called Remarkable Feat of Engineering.

Detroit.—A movable steel dam, which is described by government officials in the office of the United States Engineer here as a remarkable engineering feat, is nearing completion in the north canal at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. The most remarkable feature of the work, the engineers say, is the swinging of the entire framework of the dam, weighing approximately 30,000 tons, into place at one time. This was accomplished by means of a stiff log derrick on either side of the canal.

The dam will have been installed by December 1, the engineers say, work of placing the gates being under way at present.

The dam was designed to afford protection to two locks in the Soo Canal. When the dam is completed it will be possible to shut off the water supply through the canal entirely, placing the structure in a precautionary measure, or, if it is pointed out, it at any time any of the gates in the locks become out of order it would be impossible to stop the flow of water, which might flow through the canal at a high rate of speed, imperiling shipping and carrying away other locks. It is to prevent such an occurrence.

that the dam was authorized by the government.

The new dam is said by engineers to mark a new step in such construction, the entire framework and gates being built of steel.

The dam is to be operated much like a draw bridge, being divided in the middle. It will be possible to close either or both sides at a time, keeping the water from one or two locks, as desired. The dam will be tested each month.

EMPLOYERS GET LIST OF BOY APPRENTICES

Madison.—The industrial commission has started sending to all large employers lists of boys who desire to be apprenticed. Names of several hundred prospective apprentices are brought before employers through this method, the commission reports.

The plan is said to not only help the boys in finding opportunities to be trained in skilled mechanics, but also assists employers in selecting good apprentices.

All employers are urged by the commission to give special attention to the selection of their young workers, and the commission suggests to them that no boys be apprenticed merely because they no longer care to go to school.

An incentive is given Wisconsin apprentices by employers who follow the commission's suggestion that one month be cut off each year of the apprenticeship period if the boy reaches a high degree of efficiency.

PRINCE IS SICKER
Hull, Kan.—The summer Asia has arrived from San Francisco with Prince Axel of Denmark on the bridge acting as captain. The prince is spending a year at sea.

NAVY GUNNERS HANG UP TARGET RECORD

Los Angeles.—A world's record in gunnery was established by the gun crew of turret No. 4 of the U. S. S. New Mexico, in practice off the harbor here, according to officers of the flagship.

In short range director practice five shots were fired from three fifteen-inch guns of the turret No. 4 in one minute and 23 seconds, all direct hits at 6,000 yards. The previous record was one minute and 42 seconds.

Another shining example of marksmanship was 17 out of 25 direct hits at 6,000 yards. Lieutenant Lyle Morgan is commander of the record gun crew and Ensign Atherton McCumby, second in command.

SEEK NEW CITY PARK.
Escondido, Mich.—Escondido will probably have a new lake, shore park if voters at the spring election act favorably toward the proposal offered by the Chamber of Commerce who have purchased a tract of land for that purpose. The Chamber of Commerce will retain possession of the land until spring when the voters will be given an opportunity to express their sentiments. The tract includes all land west of the highway on the north side of the front. The purchase price of the land was announced as $21,500. This amount is to be paid in 10 equal installments.

HAW! BAWTHS IN COLLEGE! MY WORD!

Cambridge, Eng.—Undergraduates of St. Catherine's College will soon have the luxury of an occasional hoot in college buildings.

It is 480 years ago since the college was built. Students have had to bathe as best they could in their rooms, or get a bath elsewhere.

After many years of agitation the conservative authorities have so far consented to allow three baths to be installed, but as there are some 70 undergraduates here, the news of the paper OLD CAMBRIDGE says that, according to rumor, baths are to be taken in order of seniority.

THE GAZETTE'S PLATFORM

Build a Community Center and Convention
 Hall for the city for athletic, convention, musical, dramatic, civic meetings, and have it belong to the whole city. This is also a part of a program to provide music and entertainment for the people of the city.
 Complete the city plan. Make more small parks and playgrounds and provide at least one large park where the whole people may play and rest.
 Camp for auto tourists coming to Janesville or passing through.
 Erect a memorial for the soldiers
 of the World War, suitable and adequate,
 and preserve the relics and souvenirs of that and all other American wars in a public place.
 Finish the paving of Janesville streets and complete the sewer system.
 Make all main highways into city of concrete
 to connect with good pavements in Janesville.
 Keep the city looking bright and clean with paint and the streets free from filth.
 Either build a new hotel or so increase the facilities of the present hotels as to take care of the traveling public and be able to handle conventions.
 Establish a school at an early date and improve the children proper educational facilities.

DO YOU WANT TO BE A SANTA CLAUS?

In a few days Christmas will be here. It is the holiday season when mankind sees things rosy and every influence is softened. It is time also to think of the children.
 Last year the Gazette brought together more than 150 children and Santa Claus. We want to do it again. Instead of making promisorious baskets and presents for children en masse, the Gazette proposes to find children who need the aid and assistance of a Santa Claus and provide the individual St. Nick for each of them.

So, if the men and women of Janesville,
 who will each act as Santa Claus for some little boy or girl, will tell the Gazette, we will try and find a chimney for them to use and a stocking to fill.

Do you want to be a real Santa Claus this year?
 Tell the editor of the Gazette as soon as possible. The children are being lined up now.

December came in like a wet sponge. Mr.
 Mead may be right about the weather at that.

CITY MANAGER SEEMS TO BE THE ONLY ALTERNATIVE

Cleveland went to city management in the November election because it seemed to be the only solution of the municipal troubles. Dayton after a battle retained the managerial system in spite of the bosses. Kansas City is discussing the city manager plan seriously. That large city is just now also interested in the arrest of an alderman caught with the goods, charged with soliciting a bribe. Kansas City has been the center of paying operations that it is charged have netted the officials and contractors a small barrel of the taxpayers' money.

Once corruption in a city was largely due to vice. With the better control of vice other channels had to be sought by the grafters. It has been found in paving. Closed specifications, dummy bids and a combine of three contractors in Kansas City, according to charges before the grand jury now, have been responsible for the loss of several hundred thousand dollars to the taxpayers, both of the city and with the same conditions for road contracts another loss on road building. It is charged that the asphalt contractors have the city
 by the throat with officials complaisant or participating. A cry has gone up for open specifications, for a wider range of paving materials and for a closer scrutiny of the contracts. But what can a city do when it is held by the throat with contractors and officials in perfect harmony and no definite place, as is always the case under the aldermanic form, for the fixing of responsibility?

That is the reason Cleveland went to the manager form of government and that is the reason why Kansas City is now discussing the plan with intense interest.

WANTED—Man with team to pull autos out of the mud in the Black Hawk section.

IT IS A PITIFUL SITUATION.
 That there will be a renewal of the retaliatory crimes in Ireland and that the Emerald Isle will again be drenched with blood, seems not only possible, but very probable as a result of the practical failure of the negotiations. The refusal of the Ulsterites to agree to any union of the Irish parliament and the fixed determination of the Sinn Féin not to accept any allegiance to Great Britain has precipitated the end of peaceful parley and the threat of war to the bitter end, is here again.

The world must be braced for the shock that is so apparently inevitable. It is plain that Great Britain having failed to bring about peace, and Ireland being unwilling to accept anything except independence without allegiance will be at the edge of the brink. Can Ireland fight a successful revolution against Britain? Will it mean extermination and death to the Irish rather than to have peaceful union? One shudders at the thought of tomorrow and the shocking things of blood and death that fill the air.

Having fined the marble trust, the government
 ought to go after the marble heart trusts.

Yes, the pioneers are passing. The death of Mrs. Winford O'Carra at the age of 92 marks the close of a long life of which 65 years were spent in Janesville. It covers a long period of the city's history and in the span of that life practically all the greatest steps in the world's progress have been taken. It won't be long

FAIRIES TO BE FILMED

by FREDERIC J. HASKIN

New York City.—One of the many heroic achievements now expected of movies is to prove the actual existence of fairies. While several enthusiastic persons in Great Britain, including Sir Conan Doyle, have produced extraordinary still photographs of fairies, they have left the public astonished but unconvinced. Clearly more emphatic proof is needed. So now, according to latest reports, a moving picture expedition has been sent into Yorkshire to camp on the fairies'
 trail and to get close-ups of them if possible.

Yet just how this is to be done remains a mystery, because it is well known among the initiates that only the very old and wise, the very young and those with clairvoyant sight can really see fairies. Can it be possible that the fairy believers have discovered a clairvoyant movie camera man?
 The report does not say. Like most attempts to bring the fairies within the mundane sphere of ordinary folk, it is all very singular and baffling
 and much like a fairy story itself.

The ancient wise men, presumably even Socrates, believed in fairies, and many poets and artists
 throughout the ages have professed complete faith in their existence, but the first great Believe-in-Fairies movement originated in this dull and unromantic twentieth century. When Peter Pan came to the edge of the footlights and begged us
 to believe in fairies, most of us rose gallantly to the occasion simply to oblige Miss Maude Adams, little dreaming that in a few more years people would begin to take Peter seriously. Even less did we dream that the movies would be trying to get the fairies under contract.

Fairy films should prove conclusively popular
 and make a lot of money for their producers.
 They are already an exhibit of their photographs draws a large and enthusiastic audience in London. At such an exhibit, held in the hall of the
 graphs were shown with the appropriate assistance of a magic lantern; and explained by E. L.
 Gardner, the British leader of the Believe-in-Fairies movement, who has made a laborious study of the "little people" as they are presented in the folklore of all nations.

The first photographs shown were some made in 1917. The man who did the photographing, according to Mr. Gardner—a man named Carpenter—did not see the fairies himself, but simply focused his camera wherever his young children
 —who were evidently on familiar terms with the little creatures—told him to. He regarded the whole thing as a childish prank until he came to develop the plates when he was so amazed at what he beheld on them that he left them in the dark room for 15 months.

A large audience, including a London writer,
 was able to share in his astonishment. They saw a picture of a gnome hopping onto the knee of a young girl who was sitting on the grass in a Yorkshire dell. The child told Mr. Gardner that the gnome wore black tights and a red jacket; He also had a scarlet cap and had wings like a moth's.
 In his left hand he carried a pair of Pan's pipes.
 All this was shown clearly enough on the screen,
 and a photograph of the winged gnome many times enlarged from the original also was exhibited. Inquirers had to wait to know the source and nature of fairy clothing. Mr. Gardner said it was of the substance of themselves.

Later one saw a ring of fairies gamboling on a grassy bank where one of the children knelt to watch them. One incredulous spectator dug into his memory and recalled such a band dancing on a poster round a night light. Another fairy photograph, alone had excellently bobbed hair and wore a dark gown of stylish cut.

"In a further picture there was shown a band of little people playing among flowers. This was a photograph taken last August, says Mr. Gardner. One of the fairies was half hidden in a cocoon, which the lecturer explained was a sort of health-giving bath used by them after bad weather. Witnesses in Scotland and the New Forest testified to seeing the same sight. Mr.
 Gardner declared that the plates from which the slides were made had been submitted to every possible test to detect fraud, and none had been discovered.

Mr. Gardner went on to explain that fairies could be photographed only in specially materialized conditions. "The matter composing a fairy's body is plastic to thought. Children of human thought give fairies the form in which they are seen by the clairvoyant.

"They have a definite task in the scheme of nature, and are subject to evolution. Their duties are concerned with the color, growth and shape of flowers. They live on a very humble level and are about as intelligent as a Newfoundland dog."

This may sound like sheer nonsense to probably people, but it is interesting to note that the same kind of nonsense was indulged in by ancient gentlemen whose reputation for wisdom remains intact even in this sophisticated and irreverent age. Plato, for instance, declares that Socrates, expounded on the invisible little people of the elements, saying:

"What water and the sea are to us for our necessities, the air is to them, and what air is to us, that ether is to them. But their seasons are of such a temperament that they are free from disease and live for a much longer time than those here, and surpass us in sight, hearing and smelling; and everything of this kind, as much as air exerts water, and ether air, in purity."

The Abbe de Villars, a slightly less ancient sage, who wrote a pamphlet anticipating Darwin's conclusions concerning the origin of species, gives an entirely different description of the fairies in his remarkable work, "Comte de Zaba-lis."

"The Air is full of an innumerable multitude of People, whose faces are human," he says.
 "seemingly rather naughty, yet in reality tractable, great lovers of the sciences, cunning, obliging to the Sages and enemies of fools and the ignorant. Their wives and daughters have a masculine beauty like that of the Amazons. The seas and rivers are inhabited as well as the air.
 The ancient Sages called this race of people Undines, or Nymphs. There are very few males
 among them, but a great number of females;
 their beauty is extreme and the daughters of men
 are not to be compared to them."

"The earth is filled with to its center with Gnomes, people of slight stature, who are the guardians of treasures, minerals and precious stones. They are ingenious, friends of man and easy to govern. They furnish the children of the Sages with all the money they require, and as the price of their service ask naught save the glory of being commanded. The Gnomes, their wives, are small, but very amiable, and their dress is exceedingly curious. As for the Salamanders, flaming dwellers of the region of fire,
 they serve the Philosophers, but do not seek their company eagerly."

Dignity is lent to these strange views by the fact that the "elements" referred to are not the usual fire, water, air and earth with which most of us are familiar, but "four cosmic rates of vibration which, according to occult science, constitute the essences of those forms of manifestation and the foundation of the universe."

All of this is doubtless wholly convincing to those who believe it, but most people will probably wish to reserve judgment until they see the fairies filmed. Meantime, however, we feel impelled to shed a silent tear for the property man assigned to the task of building a movie set for the four cosmic rates of vibration.

SPORTSMANSHIP.
 Play the game.
 But play it fairly.
 Fight to win.
 But meet men squarely.
 Take a hit.
 And hit the line.
 Do your best.

 Keep in mind.
 There's more than winning;
 There's good or ill.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

by ROY H. MOULTON.

THE NEWS OF HOPPERTOWN.
 Amos Butts, our courteous and graceful auditor, also folding chairs to rent and which can be opened and shut without breaking the backs of any of the communicants, says he expects to put for posterity in the near future Uncle Ez Harkins says he hopes Amos won't get elected, as the mail is slow enough now without having an undertaker-handled letter. Uncle Ez has waited 15 years for one letter. A letter promised to write Uncle Ez regarding a dog which the latter was intending to purchase to go hunting with that fall, but if the letter wrote, together too late, as Uncle Ez has grown a little too old in the last 15 years to go hunting and besides just like as not the dog is too old to be of any good. Uncle Ez got sick once before on a dog deal. He bought a dog, a pointer, and he was told it was a pointer. It was a pointer, but it was a pointer in the sense that it was a watchdog, as his teeth was all gone. He had a fine set of false teeth, but broke 'em the second day he wore 'em. He was told it was a pointer, the wooden leg. Uncle Ez says that dog was not only all wore out, but he was also a darn fool, which was the worst part of it.

Who's Who Today

PREMIER LLOYD GEORGE.

David Lloyd George, prime minister of England, who is expected within a few weeks to make an active part in the coming conference, has been at the head of the British government for more than five years. He is fifty-eight years old and in politics a Liberal.
 When Lloyd George entered
 the house of commons as a member from Carnarvon
 some thirty years ago he was a member of the cabinet.
 He occupied an unpretentious niche as a legislator for eighteen years until, in 1918,
 he was elected to the premiership.
 Up to the beginning of the war, Lloyd George was the "big four" of the British cabinet, the other three being Asquith, Balfour and Curzon.
 In 1920-21, when the Irish demands for independence
 became formidable, the little Welshman
 was the spokesman for King George in the negotiations with the Sinn Féin leaders.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

The Presidency and Critics.
 Doubtless one of the requisites for a President of the United States is a sense of humor. At least ability to ignore the many pestiferous suggestions of the form "I am not a doctor, but I am a doctor." In the early days of 1914, in London, Lloyd George was told that the British had their "backs to the wall." In Flanders he turned the industries of his country into a huge munition factory, and in 1918 he led the British soldiers and 5,000,000 war workers, provided for the building of 4,000,000 tons of shipping, transformed big estates into subsistence farms and enforced conscription. During the war and since he has been a constant and active member of the supreme war council.

The war over, Lloyd George was one of the "Big Four" at the Paris peace conference. In 1920-21, when the Irish demands for independence
 became formidable, the little Welshman
 was the spokesman for King George in the negotiations with the Sinn Féin leaders.

LOOKING BACKWARD

Dec. 2, 1831.—There were 13 internments in Oak Hill cemetery during November. Elaborate preparations are being made for the Water-witch Engine Co., No. 1, which will be held in the cemetery on Thursday night. These affairs are always looked forward to and it is hoped to make this one a bigger success than ever. Anderson's orchestra will play.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Dec. 2, 1891.—Three of the most prominent lecturers in the United States will be heard here this winter in a new lecture series. The lecturers are Edward Bagshaw, Max O'Rell and Sir Edwin Arnold. The lectures will be given at the Opera house and will be for the benefit of the Presbyterian church. Janesville stores are preparing their stocks for the Christmas sales.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Dec. 2, 1901.—The fifty-seventh congress
 opened in Washington today. President Roosevelt's message will be given tomorrow. It is expected. Seventeen men were killed in the northern part of the woods this year by deer hunters. Stone work on the new city hall is nearing completion. The workers have reached the top of the second story windows.

TEN YEARS AGO

Dec. 2, 1911.—Funds for the relief of the cyclone sufferers now total more than $3,400.
 A search is being conducted for Mrs. William Thomas Johnson, who rode to Edison Junction almost a week ago and took the train for some unknown place.

HE LEADETH ME

I will bring the blind by a way that they knew not; I will lead them by paths that they have not known. I will make darkness light before them,
 and crooked things straight. "These things will I do unto them, and not forsake them."—Isaiah 42: 16.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author

PLAYING IT SAFE
 As I have said before, practically
 the only way people catch coryza, pharyngitis, tonsillitis, quinsy, diphe-
 theria, laryngitis, bronchitis, influenza, pneumonia and tuberculosis, is by venturing under the five foot barrage of some cougher or sneezer. Beyond the five foot barrage one is completely safe from the infectious pyramidal invisible spray given off
 by a patient in coughing, sneezing, speaking and laughing. United States army medical officers explain the prevalence of pneumonia among soldiers in cantonments in a way quite different from that assumed by some of the personalities at Washington. The medical officers explain that the lack of space in the barracks where less than sanitary rules demand, and therefore it was not possible to have five feet of space between heads.
 Some officials are to blame for that mistake, of course.

Only the doctor and the nurse need venture under the five foot barrage.
 All others can transact any necessary
 business they may have with the patient from a reasonable distance. A visitor, for instance, may show just as much sympathy—or curiosity—at eight feet as she can at three feet.
 Germs have no wings, no feet, no means of locomotion. They go only where they are carried. And it is a safe working rule, that they are not carried beyond the five foot barrier.
 The famous Chicago, a variety of contagious diseases are treated, such as meningitis, pneumonia, diphtheria, scarlet fever, etc.,
 fumigation is used in the hospital.
 Except occasionally for clothing which cannot be sterilized by steam. No antiseptic solutions are used for washing rooms or for washing the hands of patients. Soap and water are relied upon for sanitary cleanliness. Bedding and all laundry are sterilized in the autoclave before going to the wash. All waste before going to the sewer is collected in paper bags and burned. Eating utensils are boiled after each use. Face masks of a double thickness of gauze are worn by doctors and nurses to protect the patient from possible infection.
 These masks have apparently put an end to the attacks of tonsillitis, pharyngitis and rhinitis ("cold in the head"). During the war, however, among nurses before the masks were adopted.

How far does direct rail connection exist between North and South America?

A. The bureau of railway economics says that according to the last map the United States has rail connection to Mexico City. The new Pan-American railroad, which is not quite completed, will make a connection
 from the United States through Mexico, Central America and down the coast of South America. This new Pan-American railroad to date is completed from Mexico City to San Salvador and from San Salvador to Managua. It is now being extended from Managua down the coast to Puerto Montt, also from the western coast of South America to the eastern coast of Buenos Aires it is under construction.

How is wood treated to make it bend and which is the best kind of wood to use?—C. M. C.

A. The forest service says that hickory, ash and oak are the most reliable woods to be used for bending purposes. They are treated by steam under pressure.

On what day did President Harding sign the peace proclamation?

A. The peace proclamation was signed by President Harding Nov. 11, 1921.

A. A. says "to weep crocodile tears" means to act hypocritically. Is it correct?—A. A.

A. A. is correct in the crocodile was said to weep as it ate its victim.

Can you tell me whether soldiers' wives are entitled to allotments?

A. Family allotments carrying government allowances were discontinued through the bureau of war
 risk insurance July 31, 1921.

What is meant by drinking a heel?

A. Drinking a heel tap means to drain the glass to the bottom. A heel tap is a shoe peg stuck in the heel
 and taken out when the shoe is finished.

TRAINING SCHOOL HEADS TO GATHER

Five Counties to be Represented at Conference Here Dec. 10.

Teachers of training schools, county superintendents and supervisors of five counties of this section of Wisconsin will gather here for a conference at the Rock County Teachers' Training School Saturday, Dec. 10.

The counties of Racine, Kenosha, Columbus, Green and Rock will be represented. Principal F. J. Lowth of the Rock county training school, who with Supt. O. D. Antisdal will conduct the conference, expects about 75 or 100 men and women to be present.

C. J. Anderson, Madison, assistant state superintendent of public instruction, will be the main speaker, addressing the conference in the morning on the training school courses of study and in the afternoon on county training schools and rural schools.

Principal Lowth will preside, and make the opening address. The supervisors of practice in the training schools of Monroe, Columbus and Union Grove will speak for 15 minutes each on "Our System of Observation and Practice—Aims, Methods, and Deficiencies, Including Cadet-Assistant Plan." This will be followed by a general discussion. Mr. Anderson's address will include the morning program.

Miss Ella J. Jacobson and five training school students will serve dinner to all invited guests at 11:30 a. m.

The afternoon session will open at 1:30 to last two hours. Mr. Anderson's talk which will open the session will be followed by a 15 minute discussion.

"Cooperation of County Superintendent and Training School Faculty, Why and How," will be the subject of the afternoon session. Mr. Anderson's address will include the morning program.

Prin. M. C. Palmer, Columbus, will speak for 15 minutes each on "Our Problems and Suggestions for Their Solution, As I View the Situation."

The first session of the conference of rural school superintendents will be held at the training school this Saturday. Miss Ella J. Jacobson, and several of the pupils will serve a dinner at the school to the guests attending the conference.

KNITTED THINGS FRENCH CHILDREN ARE WEARING

Even the kiddies may get their new styles "direct from Paris," for many shops are now carrying little children's knit garments which have been copied from French models. There is an undeniably foreign air about these clothes which is apparent even to the not-so-observant eye. No one would ever mistake the little sweaters at the left of being American in design. The boy's suit in the center and the little peasant blouse at the right are designed for school wear.

CAINVILLE CENTER

(By Gazette Correspondent.)
Cainville Center—The Helpers Union will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Otto Jacobs. This will be the last meeting before the bazaar, which will be held the second Thursday night in December. The weekly prayer meeting will be held Wednesday night at the home of T. M. Harper. Mr. and Mrs. William Klusmeyer entertained at a family reunion Sunday. Robert Rowley went to Baraboo Wednesday to visit relatives. He was accompanied home by his grandmother, Mrs. Engerton. Wilbur Andrew and family spent Thanksgiving day at the home of Mrs. Andrew's brother, Raymond Snyder at Center. The Sunday school conference will be held Friday night at the church. Mr. and Mrs. James Rowley entertained Saturday night at their home. Dancing and cards formed the entertainment. Wilbur Andrew and daughter Marion were visitors in Janesville Saturday. The next regular meeting of the Royal Neighbors will be held Dec. 9 when officers will be elected. Miss Maude Eastman, Janesville, was a week-end visitor at the home of her sister, Mrs. Wallace Thompson. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and Miss Eastman had dinner with Mrs. Victor Egan, West Magnolia.

FARMERS MAY GET ADVICE ON BUYING

Farm Bureau Stands Ready to Make Tests on Doubtful Products.

Southern Wisconsin farmers have learned several times during the past summer that investigation before investment is the golden rule of purchasing. An enormous amount of stock food of doubtful value and merit, stock cures and crop chemicals together with land fertilizers are being offered for sale. Some of the products offered is of merit, good value and warrants the spending of good money but other types were analyzed and found to be made of cheap compounds having little or no value, County Agent R. T. Glasco says.

Farmers are being urged to make investigations whether on bonds of stock food when in doubt, brandard goods are generally accepted without question for if they did not have the merit, continued sales would not result.

Both Farm Bureau officials and the office of the county agent are willing to cooperate with the farmers in determining the worth of stock foods and cures and fertilizers.

"If we don't know, we'll do our utmost to find out," state both County Agent Glasco and Secretary C. B. Culbert.

New State Law.

The Wisconsin legislature at its last session passed the first law to be enacted in America for the control of "bacterial" fertilizers. The state department of agriculture is charged with its enforcement.

Hundreds of Badger farmers will now be able to protect their crops against "bacterial" fertilizers. Already favorable comments have come from several other states on this action, and the large number of requests for a copy of the new law indicates that Wisconsin has again "started something."

Many farmers of the state write to the Wisconsin college of agriculture and want to know if a certain bacterial fertilizer is a good one. In the past there were no funds for carrying on any tests. It was to meet this situation that the new law was passed.

Beckkeepers to Meet.

The Beckkeepers of Wisconsin held their annual convention in Milwaukee December 8-9.

Sponsors for this meeting feel that never before have the Beckkeepers of Wisconsin been confronted so squarely with the necessity for co-operation. They are being forced to compete with cheaper grades of honey from other sections, selling for less than the costs them to produce their superior product.

H. F. Wilson, secretary of the Wisconsin Beckkeepers Association, estimates the value of the Wisconsin honey crop is about one and one-half million dollars annually. He feels it would be possible to increase this to twenty million dollars a year.

Spooner Show.

The fourth annual mid-winter grain show for northern Wisconsin counties will be held in Spooner January 4-6. The exposition will be given under the auspices of the Spooner Commercial Club and the Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment Association.

The purpose will be to interest settlers in that section of the state in the production of high yielding grains. The directors of the organization plan to take the samples from this exposition to the state show in Green Bay on January 24-25.

DROP FIRST GAME OF SEASON 23-18, TO WOODSTOCK A. L.

FRIDAY LINEUP.
R. F. B. Indians
Hager, 1.000
Harper, 1.000
Tunstad, 1.000
Bend, 1.000
McNitt, 1.000
Substitutes—(R. F. B.)—Rauhaeber, Elck, Munogue, Barriago, (Indians)—Summers and Hurte.

Losing Thursday night to the American Legion at Woodstock, Ill., the R. F. B. basketball team of this city will attempt Friday night to regain themselves in their first home game of the season. They are to meet the Plymouth Indian Aces, seven full blooded Indians, at the Coliseum rink at 8 p. m.

Woodstock had the edge in an aggregation of super players and a great team. They took the lead at the end of the half, 12 to 7, and although the R. F. B. boys put their entire weight into the battle, neither scored more than the other in the final period.

Bond of the Chicago Boosters played a star game for the R. F. B. club. McNitt, former Milton Union high school star, was the leading scorer, making for the local lads, followed by Rauhaeber.

Friday night's game promises to be one of the hottest ever played here. The Indian Aces are ranked among the best semi-pro teams in the state. Saturday night playing the Milwaukee Bright Spots, Buggs' champions last year.

The R. F. B. club is developing a style of play that will thrill the fans with its rapidity. They have a short passing, team battle worked out that is pretty.

Lineup of Thursday's game:
R. F. B. (23)
Hager, 1.000
Harper, 1.000
Tunstad, 1.000
Bend, 1.000

Free throws missed—Hager, 3; Sherburn, 4; Walters, 1.
Bugs, 20; Indians, 18.
Chiefs, Attendance—500.

Big 10 Teams Plan Schedules for 1922 Season

Chicago—Comes now the business of drafting football schedules for the 1922 season.

Coaches of the Western Conference will meet here next Saturday to map out programs for the next year. One of the most important items of the 1922 season, gridiron followers are speculating regarding the schedules of Ohio State and Iowa, who fought out this year's championship.

East vs. West Games? The eastern invasion of Chicago, resulting in a 9 to 0 triumph over Princeton, has started a movement for east vs. west games next season. Chicago has arranged to play Princeton in a return game here early in October and Iowa, 1921 conference champions, probably will arrange a game with Yale to be played in the east. Illinois is negotiating for a game with a representative Southern eleven to be played in Memphis, while Michigan is considering a game with Vanderbilt for the second week in October.

Want the Iowa schedule will be next fall there is no way of determining. Howard Jones, coach of the triumphant Hawkeyes, and Jack Wilce, coach of the Ohio eleven, may decide to arrange a game for next year in view of the fact that these teams did not meet this year.

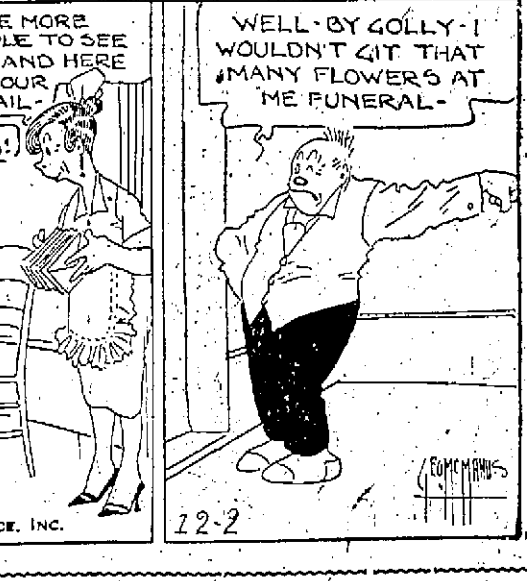

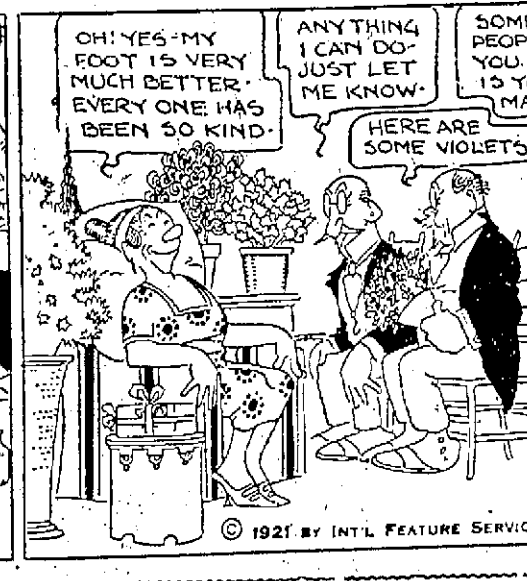

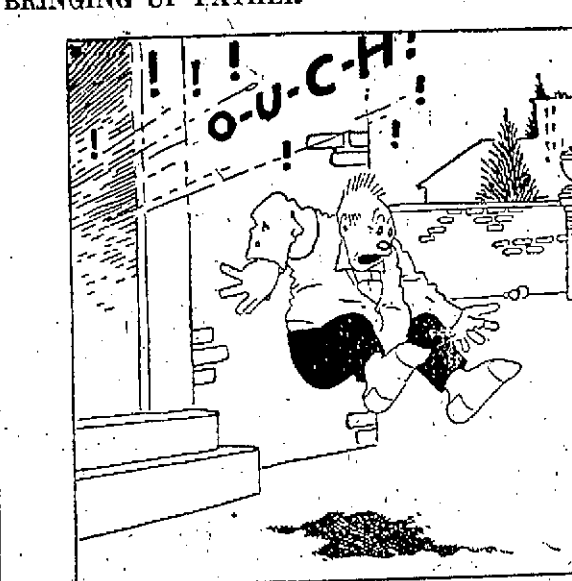

Followers of the championship Hawkeyes are planning a wonderful schedule for Iowa, but Coach Jones is laughing up his sleeve at the proposals.

"Keep Old Rivalry". It seems to be the general attitude that Iowa must at once assume a position of dictator in the Big Ten," Coach Jones said. "Perhaps every one does not carry it quite that far, but on every hand there seems to be a great misunderstanding of conditions in the Big Ten and of the methods employed in working out the schedules. It would be most unfortunate if some of the old conference rivalries as those between Ohio and Illinois, Minnesota and Wisconsin, and Indiana and Michigan, were broken just because Iowa had a successful team. Just now Iowa takes particular interest in the games with Minnesota and Illinois and we are anxious to continue playing these teams."

Probably will have a game with Yale next year, largely because Chicago substituted Princeton for Iowa on its schedule for 1922. However, there is no quarrel between Chicago and Iowa. Iowa would prefer to play teams in the Big Ten rather than go east, but it is not always possible to serve all around.

Ohio vs. California Although Ohio State's schedule is still in an embryo state, it is most certain to include Oberlin, Ohio Wesleyan, Minnesota, Michigan, Illinois and Chicago. Ohio Wesleyan and Oberlin are the two oldest foes in Ohio State's football history and it is doubtful if they will disappear from

BRINGING UP FATHER

Carter and Coogan Sign for Heavy End of Rapid Double Wind-up Program

Practical completion of the season's opening card of the Janesville (Elks) Athletic club at the Coliseum rink, Dec. 14, was announced Friday. Only one man remains to be signed up, a preliminary scrapper.

Tommy Carter, Texas, lightweight champion of the southwest, has been matched to meet Mel Coogan, Brooklyn, in a 10-round mill of a double wind-up. Coogan is the eastern lad who was to battle champion Benny Leonard but the little holder called off the battle because of a broken hand.

Carter and Coogan fight, in a double wind-up at Milwaukee, Friday night. Carter, meeting Eddie Gocho and Coogan scrapping with Tony Dennis.

In the other half of the double wind-up of the local boys, Jack Zullo of Milwaukee and Frankie Klock of Rockford are put together for an eight round battle. Zullo is the lad who so pleased the crowd in the last fight here. Klock is a smashing lightweight from the Forest City, Wis. camp.

In the second preliminary of this 30-round menu, Leo Trainer of Madison, a speedy bantam, will meet Jimmy Nelson of Milwaukee, a meet Jimmy Nelson in the opener, Young Cahill of Delavan, a clean and finely appearing light-heavyweight will meet an unknown.

The Buco's schedule. Coach Wilce is anxious to play Oberlin next fall because of the upset given the Buco's eyes at the start of last season.

Ohio has made a promise for a game of October to be played in Ohio's new $1,300,000 stadium, seating 63,000 persons. The Ohio eleven booked to appear at Illinois and Michigan to next fall, while the Michigan and Chicago games probably will be scheduled for the Ohio State stadium.

L. W. St. John, director of athletics at Ohio, believes it is better for Ohio State to confine itself to competition within the Western conference, aside from the usual preliminary games rather than play a team in the east.

Coach Zuppke, at Illinois is expected to continue his curtailed schedule of five conference games. The Illinois mentor formerly played a hard six game schedule, but this year broke the long grind by a game with DePaul between the Michigan and Chicago contests. There is still talk in Urbana of a game with Harvard, but Zuppke has refused to play a team in the east unless that team would agree to a return game on Illinois' field the following year.

Illinois will play Chicago here next season and will also play several other regulars on their home gridiron, including Wisconsin at Madison and Michigan at Ann Arbor. Iowa and Ohio State will probably play at Urbana, to round out the quintet of the games.

The schedules of all conference teams will be limited to seven games in the past. This program usually includes two practice games with smaller colleges.

Cambridge, Mass.—Charles C. Buell of Hartford, Conn., was unanimously elected captain of the Harvard varsity eleven.

A. A. Stagg, director of athletics at the University of Chicago, has received an invitation from Japan to take a Maroon track and field team to the Orient next summer.

Columbus, O.—Lloyd A. Pinley of Columbus, was elected captain of the 1922 Ohio State football team.

Indianapolis.—Stanislav Zbyszko, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, defeated Jarrinda Goben, Hincin, in straight falls.

New York.—The American Trapshooting association ruled that all amateur trapshooters of America might compete in the national title event.

CONFERENCE COACHES CONFER ON GYMNASTICS
Chicago.—Vestling, fencing and gymnastic instructors of the Western Conference universities met here Friday to arrange a series of meets for the coming indoor season.

The meeting of the four coaches will be held Saturday, when schedules for the 1922 season will be drafted. Schedules for basketball, track and swimming also will be arranged Saturday.

While the athletic directors are arranging their schedules, the faculty committee of the conference will hold its annual session to dispose of important questions. The request of Iowa, winner of the 1921 championship for permission to meet California in a post-season game may come up at the meeting of the faculty committee.

UPSETS COME IN EDGERTON BASKETBALL
Edgerton.—The interclass basketball games Wednesday evening proved a surprise to the juniors and the seniors. The eighth grade held the seniors to a score of 21 to 7, the seniors winning. The Freshman defeated the Juniors, 29-15.

GOLF BALLS CHEAPER AFTER FIRST OF YEAR
Here's a bit of New Year's cheer for the golfers. After Jan. 1 the dollar ball will sell at 75 cents. Removal of the excise tax, which amounted to about 1 cent on each ball, reduction of labor had made the cut possible. It puts the ball practically at the pre-war price.

Local Pin Men Defeat Madison by Eleven Pins

The Firestone Tire bowlers of Madison invaded the West Side alleys here Thursday night and after an hour's battle with the West Side team went away with the small end of the match. They were defeated by the margin of 11 pins.

It was a great match. The visitors had the edge at the close of the first two games, but then the local set lost a burst of speed that netted them 331 nines. The grand scores were 2634 to 2523.

Massick of Janesville had high score of 208. Fuller of Madison was second with 204.

Fairy Outfit Coming Sunday Has Great Speed

All roads will lead to Janesville Sunday afternoon when the first appearance of the Fairbanks-Morse football team of Beloit upon a Bower City gridiron will be celebrated. The occasion is the coming here of the Marquette All-Stars with Cronin and Kenning, home town boys, looming large in the background of the lineup.

The Fairies will bring an outfit here that is considered high among semi-pro teams. In addition to Dalton of Janesville, who plays quarterback, they will have such men as Witte and Connell, men well known here from their work with the Beloit college and high school elevens. Witte is an all round athlete, starring in baseball, football and basketball.

Stavengen, left end, is an unusual product. He has never played high school or college football, but has made a study of the game until now he is one of the really great players in independent football. He is also a good baseball player, covering first base for the Highway Trailers of Edgerton during the past season.

When he was the leading 14-county league batter.

County Road 1922 Program Comprehensive

Madison—County provision for highway construction during 1922 will be on as broad a scale as during the past year, judging from reports given to the highway commission by county boards. A. R. Hirst, highway engineer, said today that issues totaling nearly $10,000,000 have been authorized by the counties of the state for road construction. This money coupled with that made available through state and federal aid will bring the total highway expenditure for the coming season to approximately $15,000,000. This past year $24,000,000 was spent on roads, $3,000,000 of the amount being held over appropriations from past years.

The greater part of highway money is expended for concrete construction while the state expenditure is largely for gravel surfacing and grading. It is expected that an additional 350 miles of concrete road will be completed in 1922.

Concrete Blaine has sanctioned a road building program for the coming year in the belief that good roads are essential to best agricultural development in the state. With his approval, construction will again be directed on a large scale, although no large sums of money will be expended.

The state treasury now has slightly over $2,000,000 of highway money which will be increased by $4,000,000 from automobile license fees, and an additional $1,500,000 from federal aid money, so the next year will open with approximately $7,000,000 in the highway fund.

CAN FORCE PAYMENT OF BOOTLEGGING FINE

Madison—The state has more than one way of obtaining money from a liquor law violator who is obstinate in refusing to pay his fine. Attorney General Morgan advised Alvin E. Peterson, district attorney of Crawford county, in an opinion today, which says that an execution may be made against the property of the prisoner to collect money due.

When the violator prefers jail to payment of a fine assessed against him, that does not necessarily deprive him from having an execution made against his property for collection of the money. In addition, the attorney general holds that he has been unable to find authority which would authorize him to hold that the imprisonment imposed for non-payment of the fine is to be substituted for the fine, the opinion says. "It is of the opinion that serving a jail sentence will not relieve the man from payment of such fine and that execution may issue against his property to collect the same."

The district attorney had asked whether two months in jail would relieve a man in his county, convicted of a prohibition law violation, from payment of the fine and costs against him, or whether the state could proceed by execution to collect the fine and costs from his property, notwithstanding the fact that he is serving time in jail.

The Ladies of St. John's Church will give a Christmas Sale, Saturday afternoon and evening in the Church Basement. Lunch and Ice Cream will be served. Advertisement.

On the Screen

TOM GALLERY.

A novel feature of the presentation of the picture, "A Son of Wallingford," which will be shown at the Apollo theatre here next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, will be the appearance of the handsome actor, Tom Gallery, in person, at each performance. James Zanias, manager of the theatre, has made arrangements with the Vitaphone Production company, and with Mr. Gallery, so that he will appear on the stage and talk for a few minutes each afternoon and twice each night.

The picture is an adaptation of a story of the same name, written by George Randolph Chester, and which ran serially in one of the leading fiction magazines. It was a sequel to the series of "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" stories, which also ran in a magazine, telling of the schemes of Wallingford and his pal to get money, going around to different small towns. This story tells of his son and his on the same order.

Mr. Gallery has appeared in a number of screen productions and will probably be remembered by Janesville fans as the handsome young man who played opposite Marjorie Daw, in "Dinky," starring Wesley Barry. He won a popularity contest conducted by a large Chicago newspaper last year. Wallace Reid came a close second.

"I really wasn't fair to play that contest in Chicago, though," young Tom Gallery, the middle west's own picture star, said deprecatingly, over the luncheon table.

"Chicago is my home town and, of course, all the kids I went to school with and played ball with and liked, turned out or massed and voted for me. So I couldn't help but win."

The truth about the popularity contest, though, is this. When it was held about the Chicago police department, that Capt. Michael Gallery's son was listed in the popularity contest, every cop in the department who knew Tom or his father set out and carried every vote on their respective boots.

Two years ago young Gallery, then a reporter on a Chicago newspaper, went to Hollywood to interview movie folk for various magazines and newspapers. One day he interviewed Zasu Pitts, clever character actress, for Picture Play magazine. The director, on the still hunt for a leading man, suggested a tryout.

"O.K. I slumped down in my chair when I saw the result of that tryout flashed on the screen in the projection room. Bull Montana, looking like a polished gentleman compared to my appearance on those few feet of film," Tom explained with a wry smile.

But Director Henry Holker must have found the tryout satisfactory, for he gave the now leading man a two-year contract.

Almost a year and a half ago Tom and Zasu Pitts eloped to Santa Ana and were married. Now they have a little bundle in Hollywood and a production company of their own. They have completed their first picture together, with a cast including Marjorie Daw, Wallace Beery and Harry Todd.

"We have been married more than sixteen months now and Zasu is still the most interesting woman in the world. Besides that she can cook and is a good scout. You'd like her, too," he finished enthusiastically.

Miss Louise Carver, eccentric comedian, who will appear at the Myers theatre in Carver & Erco's Saturday and Sunday, is an old acquaintance of Janesville playhouse goers. She is well known in musical comedy, having featured in many productions that have played at the Myers-opera house here.

Another feature on the week-end bill will be the act of Anderson's melody maids, the personnel of which includes six sisters. They are an exceptional musical number, it is said.

JAPAN PREPARED TO DEMAND FORTS IN PACIFIC; BELIEF

been raised by the Japanese in the official conferences though in the meetings with the press the Japanese delegates have emphasized the importance of fortifications.

The field of controversy. The American delegation doesn't fear the introduction of the fortification problem though of course it will hardly wish to explore that controversial field until a definite understanding has been reached on the basis of the original Hughes program concerning limitation and reduction of vessels afloat as well as under construction.

When fortifications are considered, the view of the American delegation will be found to be most generous. The Japanese cannot contend that the bases of the United States in the Pacific are of any value. American naval experts say, "If the Hughes program of reduced strength goes into effect, what the Japanese really want is a promise that the United States will not build up her present fortifications or add new bases. This pledge probably would be forthcoming if reciprocated by the Japanese."

As to Naval Bases. Naval bases bear a distinct relationship to naval strength if they are sufficiently near the scene of possible naval operations. If the United States were to conduct an offensive war against Japan, the naval base at Cavite, in the Philippines, would have to be much more effective. It is contended by the American experts that it is at the present and the very fact that it has not been re-enforced, the Americans contend, is proof of the pacific intentions of the United States. The fortification of Guam, however, is considered by America as a move of a defense of Hawaii than an outpost for offense though, to be sure, the American view is that the Japanese themselves know how little value are the present facilities at Guam.

What Does Japan Want? The trouble is the Japanese have not yet made clear what it is they want to do if they agree as seems inevitable to the 5-5-3 ratio. The American delegates have explained, of course, that the Japanese are not eager to take into account vessels under construction. Of course, if these are eliminated the 5-5-3 ratio would be disturbed but the American contention is that a vessel on which money has been spent is to that extent a part of a country's "existing naval strength." First the Japanese contended that pre-dreadnaughts need not even be excluded even though more than 20 years old. America's experts included them and still came to a 5-5-3 result.

The representatives of the United States went still further and included the "Mutsu" in the Japanese estimate of her own strength as a partly completed vessel and still reached a 5-5-3 conclusion. The Japanese for sentimental reasons want to keep the "Mutsu" as she is ninety-eight per cent complete but the United States has a battleship of similar strength also nearly completed and the original proposal to scrap everything under construction still stands. Secretary Hughes is arguing that if once the principle is violated, the whole structure of the American proposals is broken down. He insists that the vessels under construction must be counted in any ratios and must be scrapped. The United States has spent $330,000,000 already on ships in the process of building and the American delegation has told the Japanese that the public opinion of this country would not countenance the loss of such a large sum of money unless Japan was willing also to scrap everything she was building. In other words the sentimental fondness for the $330,000,000 already spent by America.

Confident of Settlement. The big issue is slowly emerging, however, it is not the quarrel over ratios of existing strength but fortifications and collateral matters on which the Japanese are not eager to agree at once. The attitude of the conference does not indicate hopelessness but confidence that the differences which have appeared will soon be resolved.

Week Set Aside for Patriotic Work in Schools

Flaz etiquette and the program suggested by the American Legion will be observed in the Janesville public schools during Americanization week, Dec. 5-11. A sense of what citizenship should be and how it may be developed in the school room is the suggested plan to be carried out.

A splendid idea was the comment of Supt. P. O. Holt.

National Health week will be observed in the schools the following week although it is also scheduled for Dec. 5-11. Roy Henry Williams, of the Rotary club and the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, is making arrangements to secure a health speaker for the Rotary club meeting that week. Someone may also speak before the Kiwanis club on the same subject.

WILL BE TRIED ON COMPLAINT OF GIRL STUDENTS OF BELOIT

Beloit—James Schallenberg, arrested Dec. 1, by three police officers, has been charged with molesting a girl. He will be tried in the Rock county circuit court, Judge John B. Clark, Beloit, made a note of the offense of the defendant being that the Beloit judge might be biased.

CAN IMPROVE ROADS WITHOUT PUBLIC VOTE

Nelson—Towns and cities have the authority to expend money for permanent improvement and maintenance of highways, not in the state trunk system, without express approval by a vote of the citizens of the community. Lucien T. Reid, district attorney of La Crosse county is advised by the attorney general today.

Towns and cities are required to maintain county highway systems. E. B. Drossard, assistant attorney general says in the opinion. The burden shifts, he says, only when the county needs become part of the state highway.

Towns may petition the county to provide for the upkeep of roads and their improvement, but they cannot force or coerce the counties into doing their wish, according to the opinion.

ROOSTER CROWING CASE IS DECIDED

Judge H. L. Maxfield has given a decision in the Yeomans-Koppelman case. The plaintiff had no cause for action. Frank Yeomans testified he entered into an agreement with W. C. Koppelman to raise tobacco on shares but not to grow roosters and noises of Koppelman's family he was unable to sleep and consequently had to give up after he had performed considerable work. He also sought to recover for other labor on Koppelman's farm in La Prairie. He claims he was never paid for four loads of hay he sold Koppelman in November, 1920.

ADDRESSES GOVERNOR WHO LEFT OFFICE IN DAYS OF CIVIL WAR

Madison—The length of the official life of Wisconsin executives may be a matter of speculation, but one resident of the state is believed to be of the opinion that, when elected, a governor serves "in perpetuity."

A. W. Randall, Waukesha, received a letter Wednesday from a woman in Lake Geneva, addressed to the State Legislature, Madison. The letter was delivered to Governor Blaine in view of the fact that Gov. Randall left office on the first Monday in January, 1882, almost 39 years ago. He and his wife, Mrs. Randall, are now 80 and 75 years old. A widow's pension is desired by the writer, and her letter has been referred to the state board of control for answer.

10 HUNTERS DIE IN MICHIGAN; 2 MISSING, 20 HURT

Detroit—Ten hunters lost their lives in Michigan during the 25 days deer season, which closed Wednesday. Two others are reported missing and a score wounded.

The proportionate death rate for the 1921 season exceeded that of any recent year, owing to the small number of hunters going into the north woods. It is estimated that not more than 20,000 persons participated in the deer hunt in Michigan. The deer kill is believed not to have exceeded 4,000, due to the "one buck" law and other hunting restrictions.

ASK HIGHWAY REPAIR

Madison—The Barron county board is requesting Governor Blaine to call a special session of the legislature to enact a highway law relieving counties from providing any part of the funds needed to meet federal appropriations. A bill calling for this change was defeated in the assembly during the last days of the 1921 session. Governor Blaine has not yet decided but it is believed he will express himself as unwilling to call the legislature back to enact new highway legislation.

600 ARRESTS FOR VIOLATION OF AUTO LICENSE STATUTES

Madison—Violations of automobile licensing laws in Wisconsin have totaled 600 during the past year, according to figures prepared by L. A. Gordon, assistant secretary of state. Inspectors of the state department are engaged in running down owners who fail to meet the state licensing requirements.

Applications for the 1922 licenses are being received by the department in the increasing numbers. Mailing will start on January 1, when the green and white plates will be distributed to the 300,000 automobile owners of the state.

Request is made that each owner send in a complete description of his car with the application for a license, giving the engine number and a general description of the machine. Otherwise, it is announced, his license is likely to be held up pending investigation.

The usual heavy demand for numbers one and 12, is made upon the secretary of state, who has long ago allotted these pet numbers to their old holders.

HORSES TO BRING HIGH PRICES, CLAIM

Chicago—There are more horses in the country today than ever before, Wayne Dismore, secretary of the Horse Association of America, Wednesday informed the annual convention of the organization. Three fifths of the 27,000,000 horses and mules in the United States are produced in 10 states of the central west, he said. He also asserted there is a growing shortage of young steeds and, because of this, horses will bring higher prices in 1924 and 1925. Horses, it was asserted, lower the farm production cost and for this reason horse breeding has been stimulated. Directors elected include L. L. Elliott, Racine.

HOMICIDES IN U. S. DECREASE IN 1920

New York—Homicides in the United States during 1920, totaled approximately 9,000, a decrease of 500 from the 1919 record, according to a computation by Frederick L. Hoffman, third vice president and statistician of the Prudential Life Insurance company of America.

The figures, made public Wednesday night through The Spectator, showed homicides fell in the land with a killing record of 62.4 persons for every 100,000 of population. Tabulations for the period 1915-19, grouped geographically, showed the New England states to be most law abiding with a rate of 2.8 for each 100,000.

Precautions Are Taken by St. Paul to Prevent Theft

Increased precautions against robbery of the United States mails have been ordered by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway. The new instructions make it essential that mail pouches and sacks be handled before baggage.

No mail shall be left unguarded upon station platforms at any time it is ruled. Mail for outgoing trains shall be kept in the baggage room until the train arrives and then be placed on board at once. Mail from incoming trains shall be unloaded and at once taken into the baggage room. Where the baggage room may be too small to accommodate both baggage and mail, the mail shall have precedence, according to the orders.

The bulletin which has been received here demands that all trainmen inspect the "blind ends" of trains at every stop. This applies particularly to the space between the locomotive and the first car—always, the mail car. Investigation of recent mail train robberies, it is stated, reveals that the bandits make this place their hiding bunk.

United States Marines are guarding four Chicago & Northwestern trains that pass through Janesville daily. Four "bandits" have been placed on the solid midnight mail that rushes through here at 12:15 every night on a dash to Minneapolis in less than three hours from Chicago. This No. 15 Four minutes round No. 14 which comes back from Minneapolis and reaches Janesville at 5:05 a. m. Three marines watch No. 507 which passes through here at 5:30 a. m. northbound, reaching Janesville at 7 p. m.

Following a gunfight between two St. Paul mail detectives at Brookfield Saturday, the men taking each other for bullets. It was stated here Monday that detectives have been at work for some time at Milton where numerous petty robberies of box cars have occurred recently. Cars of merchandise from Milwaukee to Janesville for delivery here or elsewhere are left upon a lonely siding at Milton between train connections. It is believed that thieves discovered this and lay in wait for the opportune time to steal.

RAILROAD NEWS

In order to comply with the demands of the city of Janesville that blocking of the Academy street railroad crossing must cease, the Chicago & Northwestern railway started work Monday to lengthen the depot platform by 200 feet. The standstill may be moved that distance further south when eastbound trains stop here and take on water, they cross part way over the Academy street highway.

The new station platform is being constructed of heavy planks. The water pipe may be installed close to the Five Points crossing.

With regard to obstruction of this crossing a late bulletin from F. J. Byrneson, superintendent of the division of the C. & N. W., ordered that trains must not block the crossing more than two minutes. As soon as the engine takes water, instructions are that it shall pull up clear of the street.

"In case a train is made up so that the mail car will stop at the platform with the rear and clear of Academy street," reads the order, "you will pull ahead after the crossing has been closed for four or five minutes and, if necessary, to pull back and finish your work so with proper protection at the rear of the train."

Train No. 121, Chicago to Madison, was delayed an hour and 15 minutes when the locomotive broke a Monday when the locomotive broke a driving rod near Zenda. A way freight engine brought the train to Janesville.

Effective Jan. 1, 1922, the war tax on railroad transportation will be lifted. This will mean a saving of 5 percent on passenger tickets. The following is how the new prices will affect Janesville:

To	Present Jan.	Jan. 1
Chicago	$3.55	$3.27
Milwaukee	2.75	2.51
Madison	1.51	1.33
Pond du Lac	3.24	2.97
Minneapolis	12.29	11.21
Beloit	.55	.51
Whitewater	.89	.71
Orfordville	.50	.46
Brodhead	.75	.71
Watertown	1.22	1.22
Mineral Point	3.13	2.93
Delavan	.52	.48
Elkhorn	1.14	1.05
Paris Junction	1.75	1.64
Prairie du Chien	5.28	4.95
Pt. Atkinson	.73	.72
Jefferson	1.00	.92
Milton	.33	.30
Milton Junction	.29	.27
Evansville	.64	.57
Edgerton	.50	.45
Stoughton	.97	.89

The elimination of this tax will mean a saving of millions of dollars for the people. It is believed it will mean a material increase in business for the carriers. Since the tax goes to the government, the railroads will be the beneficiaries.

J. A. McDonald, Winnetka, has been appointed baggage master at the Chicago & Northwestern depot here. He started Monday. John Barry, former baggage man, has been transferred to the freight house.

213 Officers to Issue Child Labor Permits

Madison—The state industrial commission has named 213 officers in Wisconsin, authorized to issue child labor permits, investigating each application, before the minor is allowed to enter industry. One permit officer for each county and at least one for each city with a population of 2,000 or over, has been appointed by the commission.

Out of the total number one-half or 107 officers are school superintendents, directors of vocational education or persons directly connected with the school system. There are 44 judges in the list and 28 public officials serving in other capacities while 34 persons hold no public office.

In Milwaukee the commission issues permits through paid employees, the officers in other cities receiving no fees whatever.

Have Many Applications For Christmas Pardons

Madison—Pardon hearings will be held by Governor Blaine on the second Wednesday of the month, December 14, his office announced today. There are said to be an exceptionally large number of applications for "Christmas pardons" from the number of prisoners who have already expressed their intention of asking executive clemency during this month. It is believed that many applications will be considered on that day.

CATARHIAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head and ear noises or the growing hard of hearing go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parment (double strength), and add to it a pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the noise of snoring in the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

MISS FRANCES NEWMAN,
Chicago, Ill.

"Only a medicine of truly wonderful merit could have done what Tanlac did for me and there is nothing half good enough for me to say about it," said Miss Frances Newman, 2639 Misch St., Chicago. "I don't think anybody ever suffered any more from indigestion than I did and for over a year I was in wretched health. I had smothering spells and my heart palpitated so violently I thought I had heart trouble, but I know now it was all caused from my stomach. Since taking Tanlac I feel and look like a different person. I have a splendid appetite and my digestion is just perfect. I sleep eight or nine hours every night and get up in the morning feeling fresh and happy. My friends tell me I'm always smiling now and I certainly ought to be, for I'm enjoying life again. Tanlac is sold in Janesville by McCue & Buss and leading druggists everywhere."

MAYOR ASKS MORE LIGHTS FOR SAFETY

Illuminate Alleys as Protection to Property Is Welsh's New Plan.

Hoping to safeguard against store and office robberies this winter, Mayor T. E. Welsh is planning to make a survey with Chief Charles Newman of all alleys in the downtown district to determine where additional lights may be needed.

It is a fact generally admitted that we are going to be in danger of robberies throughout the winter. The mayor Thursday afternoon said: "There is nothing in my opinion, better than a well-lighted town to prevent thefts."

"Our main streets are now well lighted, but I believe there is need for more lights in the alleys. There is nothing a thief dislikes worse than light. Some of our alleys are now so dark that a policeman going through them at night could be eluded without any warning."

The mayor is recovering from an attack of bronchitis which kept him confined to his home Tuesday and Wednesday. He was able to be at his office in this city Thursday, and Friday afternoon for a meeting of the board of public works.

Milton

(By Gazette Correspondent.)

Milton.—The Brotherhood of the Seventh Day Baptist church at Milton, Mass., held a service Sunday night. The program committee arranged with P. J. Burdick, of the Burdick Cabinet Co. to give a practical demonstration of the uses to which the various appliances manufactured by the company could be put, as agencies in preventing and healing diseases. Following the address, the social committee treated the guests to light refreshments.

Paul H. Holmes, of the Milwaukee Sentinel staff, spent Sunday at home. Thomas Davidson has gone to Chicago to do carpenter work for his brother-in-law, Dr. L. A. Platts.

APPEAL TAKEN IN MILK BOTTLE CASE

An appeal to the circuit court has been taken by the plaintiff in the breach of contract suit of Davis-Watkins Co. vs. Cronin Dairy Co. for milk bottles. Judge H. J. Macleod gave a decision in favor of the defendant. Notice of appeal was filed Thursday by the Chicago company's local attorney, M. P. D. Holt. When the case was tried in municipal court Judge Macleod ordered the plaintiff to pay all costs, including the Janesville company for any expense. Mr. Daugherty represented the Cronin plant.

BENTLEY IN TALK ON VALUE OF INSURANCE

Practical Insurance and its benefits was the subject of a talk by Mr. Bentley, of the La Crosse before the Mystic Workers at East Side Odd Fellows' hall here Wednesday night. Mayor Bentley spoke at Belmont. Thursday morning he went to Monroe and Madison.

School Marks Show Progress, Failure, Only

Speaking of the difference in the grading as shown on the report cards by which the parents gauge the progress of their children, Superintendent J. P. Holt stated Friday that a different standard of marking is used by different teachers. He stated that marks are good only to show progress or retardation. In many cases low marks are the finest incentive that can be created.

The teacher of today must be a psychologist and know all her pupils. Teachers must show individualization, as it would be foolish in this day and age to attempt to lay out a fixed line of teaching for any grade or teacher.

"While decided progress has been made in recent years in teaching method, the real test of teaching is the evident attitude of industry on the part of pupils and solid, substantial accomplishment during every class hour," said Mr. Holt.

Mr. Holt stressed that the method used by the teacher in the classroom is not as important as the results which she obtains, the development of character, of judgment, individuality in the pupils so they will be better fixed to make a success in life.

Referring to the marking of cards, which often puzzles parents, Mr. Holt said that two professors one time conducted a test in English for a junior in high school. Out of a large number of teachers who marked the papers, it was found that the marks ranged from 40 to 90 on the same paper. Thus it is seen that marks can not be used to show the brightness or dullness of a pupil, but to show progress or a slump only.

CHRISTMAS STAMP SALE TO BE WAGED
A campaign to sell in Janesville a million of $50,000 Christmas stamps of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association will be commenced soon. Rev. Henry Willmann will mail out several thousand letters with the stamps in each, which means that a contributor will be asked to donate a dollar or more. A return stamped envelope will be enclosed in each letter. The letter method of sales will be resorted to entirely. Rev. Mr. Willmann stated Thursday.

Dr. Myers Holds Important Post in U. of Oregon

Dr. Harold D. Myers, formerly of Janesville, is recovering from an operation performed at Portland, Ore., according to a letter received by his uncle, Peter L. Myers of this city. Dr. Myers is assistant dean of the medical department of the University of Oregon, treasurer of the university and head of the department of pharmacology.

The doctor was born in Janesville, the son of the late John H. Myers. He is a graduate of the Janesville high school, where he was captain of the track team when the under path was prominent in local athletics. At the University of Wisconsin he made a record in track athletics. He was always to be depended upon to carry off honors for the Redgers. He is a member of the Phi Kappa Psi chapter at his home through self-sacrifice and hard labor, as he earned his own way. After graduating from Wisconsin, he completed a course at the Western Reserve university, Cleveland.

For three years he served as intern at Bellevue hospital, New York city. In 1915 he was called to the University of Oregon at the time of the merger of that medical school with Willamette university.

Under Dr. Myers' supervision an anatomical department and medical school was constructed. A four-story second unit is now under construction and will be completed in 1922.

Dr. Myers is married and has three children.

SEEK TO PREVENT ELECTRICAL TROUBLE
Following the experience of Janesville which broke the service in Janesville twice Thursday morning because of trouble on the line between Madison and Prairie du Sac, William L. Schindler, manager of the Janesville Electric company, stated that steps will be taken to eliminate such further interruptions.

This will be accomplished by further insulation of the lines and the elimination of lighting projection, which it has been found has an effect on perfect service.

Another circle of ornamental lights in the vicinity of the city hall here will be turned on in about a week, as they were not put in last year.

The lights are being completed as soon as possible, and it is expected that the entire new system will be in operation before Christmas.

ABDUCTION PROVES TO BE ONLY MARRIAGE
The abduction of Rose Bonomo, 20 Rockford girl said to have been abducted by Annunzio Martini, Madison, Wis., was believed to have been a hoax. Thursday it was word received, telling of the marriage of the pair in Rockford.

According to advices, Martini took the girl from her home Tuesday night, taking a friend to drive him, and the girl to Madison. Finding that it would be necessary for them to wait five days there before receiving a license to marry, the pair returned to Rockford, where they were married, the police said.

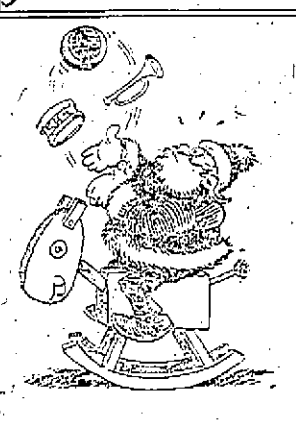

MASSACHUSETTS COW NEW MILK CHAMPION
Bellevue.—A new milk producing champion for the territory east of the Rockies has just been discovered, according to an announcement by the Holstein-Friesian association.

She is a Holstein cow, Korlaan Friesian, owned by F. F. Field, Dutchland Holstein farms, Breckton, Mass. Her record is 2,550 pounds of milk in one year, slightly more than 10 1/2 tons, and in butter fat she produced the equivalent of 2 1/2 pounds of butter. Only 42 other cows in the United States have ever produced more than 1,000 pounds of butter fat in a year.

Milk production only three other cows in the world have ever exceeded the record of Bess. Selma Pieterse, Prospect, Seattle, set the world's mark of more than 27,000 pounds of milk in one year. Billy Alberta of California is second and Zarida, Clothilde Delois of British Columbia, third.

TO RECEIVE PLACE.
At a meeting of the Senior E. class of the high school Wednesday, Cyril Rosebo, president, was selected to accept the place from the senior class at the graduation exercises in February.

Sharon

(By Gazette Correspondent.)

Sharon.—A. G. Auchincloss, a brother-in-law of John and Fred Finn, suffered a stroke of paralysis Monday, Nov. 20th and passed away Thursday at his home at Ipswich, North Dakota. He was a wife and children. He was born and raised west of Sharon, having lived for many years on the farm now called the Wolf farm. Mrs. Henry Jacobson and Miss Viola Chevalier, called several of the young ladies of the Lutheran church on Wednesday evening at the home of the latter. They organized a new sewing club that will meet every other Wednesday evening and will be known as the "Stitch and Chat" club. The evening was spent in a social way after which light refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. August Walters spent Wednesday in Janesville. Mrs. John Chapman returned Thursday to her home with her mother, Mrs. Mary Shager. Ralph Klein spent Wednesday in Janesville and called on Tom James at the Mercy hospital. Mrs. Ralph Horn of Cedarburg came Wednesday to visit her mother, Mrs. Ella Kalb. Rev. L. Woods was at Janesville Tuesday to see Tom James at the Mercy hospital.

Bad Luck and the Devil Pursued Him

"I don't think any one has had more bad luck and sickness than I have. In 1905 I had two ribs an arm and collar broken in a railroad accident. Then I had pneumonia. After recovering I crossed a pasture when a bull chased me, tossed me over the fence and broke my right leg. In 1910 I had typhoid fever since then severe stomach and liver trouble, which no medicine or doctor touched until two years ago I got a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy, which proved the first ray of light in thirteen years. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal focus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. People's Drug Co. and druggists everywhere. Advertisement.
